On sale for the first time in the UK, the Jardine RT5 exhaust fits the Fireblade and Buell 1125R

US exhaust firm bids for slice of UK market

JARDINE Performance Products is bringing its 37 years' experience of making bike exhausts to the UK for the first time.

Heading the charge is the RT5 end can for the 2008/09 Honda Fireblade, which is available in stainless steel for £399, and titanium or carbon fibre for £475. The can is also available for the Buell 1125R. Aluminium costs £450, and titanium or carbon £549.

Jardine made its first bike exhaust in 1972 and recently has provided full systems to the American Honda race squad.
